Chemist, Dr. Beck, Uncorks Himself at St. Louis and Retails Slanders-Weekly Report of the Howard Nurse Department - Names of the Sick Supplied-News from Other Points.

The lists of new cases furnished by the oard of health, and published below, show board of health, and published below, show a decrease in new cases and deaths among whites and an alarming increase in both among the colored people. The fever has been progressing since the sixth of July. The increase among the blacks and decrease among the whites at this stage of the epidemic indicate that, so far as the latter are concerned, the backbone of the fever is given way while as to the former, it is taking a ing way, while as to the former it is taking a firm hold, and is becoming more fatal. The unacclimated whites, acting wisely, have gone and are going to camps, while the colored people, instigated by unprincipled or ignorant leaders, have refused, and have failed to avail these alves of the pertection officers. to avail themselves of the protection offered them in common with the white citizens. The statement made to a St. Louis reporter by some Dr. Beck, who claims to have been a chemist in this city, and the report of Colonel James H. making application for a health certificate to enable him to reach Cairo. In conversation he commented upon the fumigating system at present in vogue in Memphis and at the several quarantine points between there and St. Louis. The fumes from the burning of chloride of lime and sulphuric acid, he says, have no effect whatever upon infected clothing or goods. The fumigating proces is only half carried out. To distinct the material it must be subjected to a certain amount of dampness to cause the odors to take effect. A damp cloth should be spread over the article to be disinfected, and then the object desired will not be accomplished by a few moments fumigation; it should be centinued for an hour or more. As at present practiced it is simply a farce. Speaking of the Howards, he said that there was much complaint against them, in Memphis, Last year, after the fever had subsided, instead of burning the bedding and clothing of victims of the scourge, it was fumigated and then sold at section, the property not bringing över one thousand live hundred dollars. The sale was made by the public administrator, but could have been prevented by the Howards, who had charge of the property, and finally turned it over to the official who made the sale. He had no doubt but what the rellow-fever originated this year from the infected clothing which was scattered about in this way. The government, adopting a more wise and discreet course, destroyed all of the tents which were sent late in the season and used but very little. The Howards were also charged with making distinctions and showing partiality in the employment of physicians, only engaging those who were or had been members or possessed the friendship of infinential members of the soci search and reap s rich reward from the harvest of death. No charge of dishonesty, however, had ever been made against the organization, and he believed that the funds intrusted to their care had been distributed for the purposes, for which they were designed. He had not left Hemphis through

He arrived and was taken sick Thursday, though the disease did not develope itself until yesterday. Health-Officer Montgomery received the first information of the case this morning, and he at once sent to the hotel and had the room which Graft occupied thoroughly disinfected. This is the only case now at the yellow-fever hospital. A Genuine Case at Tuliahoma. Special to the Appeal.

NASHVILLE. August 23.—The following is the American's Tullahoma special: "Drs. Clark and Wright have been here since noon to-day, making a complete investigation of Elitott Boyd, who died here yesterday, and whose death was considered to be from malignant billious fever. After the conclusion of their investigation they pronounced it yellow fever, and directed the fulfillment or all orders given by Dr. Clark yesterday in regard to the isolation of the family and the disinfection of the premises. There are now no others of the family sick, excepting one lady, who is convalescing from what was described as a billious attack, and which from its appearance could not have been yellow-fever. There are seven members of the household with the exception of the above mentioned, in good health. They have been removed three miles in the country, and the inspectors, together with our resident doctors, just returned from the house which the family vacated, have given it a thorough fumigation with sulphur. No excitement in the place, and no apprehension of a spread of the disease.
